

TSUNADO Public Alerting when people need to know

Life can be unpredictable. Even in the relative safety of suburban life, events can unfold that endanger those unlucky enough to be in the wrong place, at the wrong time. Whether it be an armed gunman, a robbery gone wrong, a predator, a chemical spill, or a lost child, there are times you need to target a specific area of the population simply and quickly. TSUNADO Alert Radios provide the ability to get information out quickly and efficiently.

TSUNADO Alert Radios are activated by standard radio signals delivered by existing FM radio stations, or satellite channels, delivering the Alert message easily and cost effectively.

TSUNADO Public Alerting has features such as dedicated audiences, and geo-targeted messaging. Low level alerts can be delivered just to the front screen, while high level alerts will wake you from your deepest sleep.

TSUNADO Alert Radios are discrete and elegant, and are a welcome addition to every home. They can be unplugged quickly, and become portable radios, with a battery life of up to 5 days.
